Arnold Von Der Porten is a living testament to the American Dream. When he arrived in the United States in 1972, he was a young immigrant with a suitcase full of dreams and a heart full of hope. Today, he is a renowned inventor, entrepreneur, and philanthropist who has made significant contributions to his adopted country.

From Humble Beginnings

Arnold Von Der Porten was born in Germany in 1944. His early years were marked by poverty and hardship. His family lived in a small apartment with no running water or electricity. Arnold was often sick and malnourished. But despite these challenges, he always had a thirst for knowledge and a passion for learning.

When Arnold was 16, he immigrated to the United States with his family. They settled in a small town in Pennsylvania. Arnold quickly learned English and enrolled in high school. He excelled in his studies and graduated with honors. He then went on to earn a degree in engineering from the University of Pennsylvania.

A Life of Innovation

After graduating from college, Arnold began his career as an engineer. He quickly rose through the ranks and became a leading expert in his field. In 1984, he founded his own company, Porten Engineering. The company specialized in developing innovative solutions for the automotive industry. Arnold's inventions have made a significant impact on the way cars are designed and manufactured.

One of Arnold's most notable inventions is the Porten Press. This revolutionary new technology allows for the production of lightweight and durable car parts. The Porten Press is used by major automakers around the world.

A Legacy of Giving

Arnold Von Der Porten is not only a successful businessman, but also a generous philanthropist. He has donated millions of dollars to charities and educational institutions. He is particularly passionate about helping young people achieve their dreams.

In 2000, Arnold founded the Porten Foundation. The foundation provides scholarships to underprivileged students who want to pursue careers in engineering. The foundation also supports a variety of other educational programs.

A Half-Century of Success

Arnold Von Der Porten has come a long way since his humble beginnings. He is now a successful inventor, entrepreneur, and philanthropist. But more than anything, he is a proud American. He is grateful for the opportunities that this country has given him.

Arnold's story is an inspiration to us all. It shows us that anything is possible if we have the perseverance, passion, and innovation. He is a true American success story.
