The kitchen's rustic elegance sets the tone for an unforgettable culinary journey. Exposed beams, stonework, and vintage furniture create an ambiance that is both intimate and captivating. Large windows flood the space with natural light, casting a warm glow upon the gleaming copper cookware and the vibrant colors of freshly picked produce.

Savor the Symphony of Flavors in Every Dish

At The Old Rectory Escape To Country Kitchen, the cuisine is an art form, a symphony of flavors that celebrates the bounty of the Cotswolds. Head Chef Emily Carter leads a team of passionate culinary artisans who meticulously craft each dish, using only the freshest and finest ingredients.

The menu changes seasonally, showcasing the region's rich culinary heritage. Expect to indulge in hearty soups and stews during the colder months, while the warmer seasons bring a burst of fresh flavors with salads, grilled meats, and seasonal vegetables. Local produce takes center stage, ensuring that each dish is a reflection of the surrounding landscape.

A Delectable Journey for the Senses

Dining at The Old Rectory Escape To Country Kitchen is a true feast for the senses. Begin your culinary adventure with tantalizing starters such as the honey-roasted parsnip soup or the crispy duck confit spring rolls. As you savor the delicate flavors, sip on a carefully selected glass of wine from the extensive cellar.

For the main course, the choices are as tempting as they are diverse. Indulge in the succulent grilled sirloin steak with rich red wine sauce, or the pan-seared scallops with cauliflower puree and truffle oil. Vegetarians will delight in the roasted aubergine with quinoa and pomegranate seeds.

No meal is complete without a sweet ending. The kitchen's pastry chef creates a symphony of desserts, from the classic sticky toffee pudding to the delicate raspberry and chocolate tart. Each bite is a testament to the team's unwavering commitment to excellence.

Fine Wines to Elevate the Experience

No culinary journey is complete without a well-curated selection of wines. The Old Rectory Escape To Country Kitchen's cellar boasts an impressive collection of vintages from around the world. Sommeliers are on hand to guide you through the diverse offerings, ensuring that each sip complements your meal perfectly.

Whether you prefer a crisp Sauvignon Blanc with your seafood or a robust Cabernet Sauvignon with your steak, the cellar has something to satisfy every palate. The team's passion for wine shines through in their recommendations, adding an extra layer of enjoyment to your dining experience.

Escape to Tranquility and Indulgence

Escape to the Country Kitchen is more than just a restaurant; it is a sanctuary where you can unwind, indulge, and reconnect with the simple pleasures of life. The warm and friendly staff will ensure that your every need is met, creating a truly memorable and relaxing experience.

Take a break from the hustle and bustle of daily life and retreat to the idyllic setting of The Old Rectory. Let the rustic charm, exquisite cuisine, and fine wines transport you to a world of culinary bliss.
